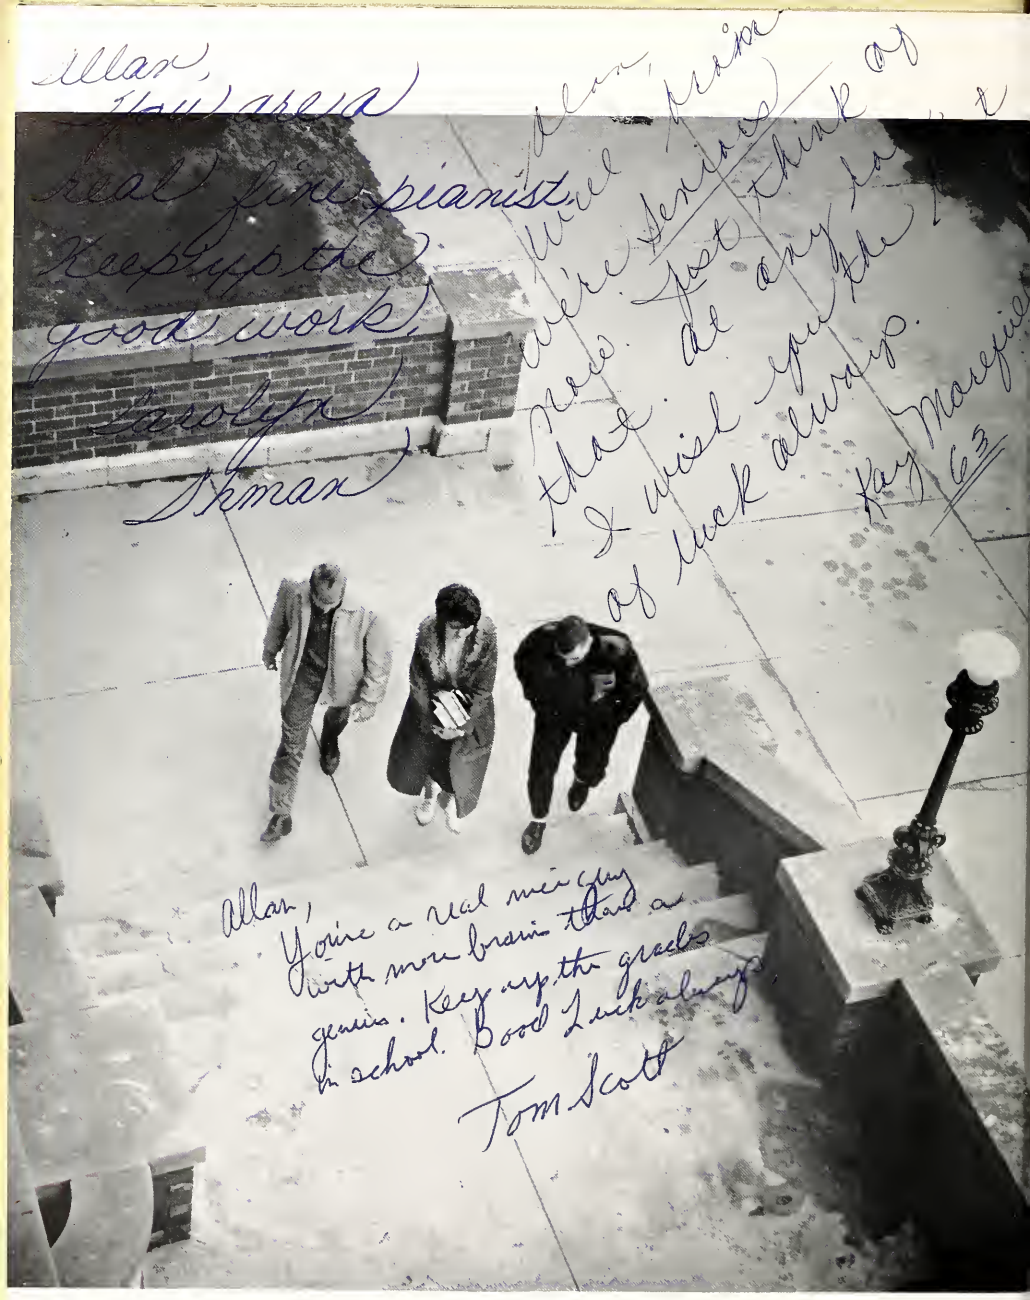
September found us enrolled in a school of three - three classes. The 6-3-3 educational system had eliminated freshmen from P.H.S. We were baffled by this change at first, but as the year progressed, we became accustomed to being only three.



We climb the steps to a new and different life . . .

NOW WE ARE THREE . . .

in SCHOOL LIFE

As three, we worked together to produce the best school year possible. Taking part in rodeos and plays, cheering on our teams, running for office: these were some of the ingredients of that wonderful mixture of work and play — school life at P.H.S.

At First, Things Seemed Very Quiet

Uncle Henry, little Dorothy, and even the straw-stuffed scarecrow came to visit the Wizard of Oz at the Girls' League Kid Party. Sula Salmons, Penny Wiltshire, and Kathy Geberin stop on their way to the Emerald City to have some refreshments.

When school opened in September, 1961, many phases of life at PHS were different for faculty and students alike. With no new first-year students, many "first-day" problems did not arise. Faculty members were not bothered with balky lockers, "lost" rooms, or other typical freshman predicaments. Upperclassmen did not have the task of acting as "big brothers" to freshmen. Several seniors were disgruntled to find that they were placed in the underclass locker section rather than in the coveted senior corridors. Halls were quieter—but dance receipts were less!

Nevertheless, without freshmen, the year got off to a good start with such fall events as Homecoming, Student Body Election, Rodeo, and the Kid Party. Although the Kid Party formerly was a party for freshmen, the rest of the girls enjoyed it just as much without the "babies." Although this has been a year of innovations and new experiences, the activities and traditions of "good old PHS" have remained the same.

Money, money, everywhere, and all for charity! Even fishbowls filled with money were brought to the table in the main hall to be emptied into the till as the Charity Drive began January 30.

Making a last-minute pitch for votes, the three candidates for Student Body President—Logan Wernz, Ron Doucette, and Rich Dobler—hopefully ask for support. These boys campaigned vigorously during the week before election, but only one, Rich Dobler, was to attain the honor of leading the PHS Student Body.

"Roll up your sleeve," is the command to students as they stream into study hall from home rooms on Patch Test day. This service of the Miami County TB Association is an annual event in the lives of PHS students which insures that no active case of tuberculosis shall go undetected.

Queens Add Luster

Enchanting the Homecoming fans was Della Eckelbarger, Homecoming Queen, as she reigned over the football festivities for 1961.

Leading the PHS student body through a week of festivities was Della Eckelbarger, Homecoming Queen of 1961. A bonfire the night before the football game aroused students' spirits. Gold and black corsages were sold by Senior Y-Teens girls to add pep and color to the cheering fans.

Due to the fact that a Student Body President had not yet been elected, Frank Welke, former junior class president, crowned the queen during the half-time show. A parade of floats was unveiled for judging and for viewing by the fans. Many clubs participated in the parade, with the Industrial Club winning first prize for the best float.

The Tigers added the finishing touch to the annual event by downing the Rochester Zebras, 19 to 6, before a capacity crowd at Bengal Stadium.

To Special Occasions

As the clock chimed 8:00, six lovely girls slowly walked down the aisle to the strains of "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody." The girls proceeded to the stage, where they were introduced by Richard Dobler, Student Body President, who then crowned Beth Ann Flowers as Queen of the 1961 Rodeo. This coronation ceremony officially opened the annual show.

Retiring to a throne at the back of the gym, the queen and her court reigned over the variety show for its two performances on Friday and Saturday, November 17 and 18.

"Hey, Look Us Over!" was the second Rodeo during 1961. Because of a conflict in scheduling, the 1960 show was presented in the early spring of 1961.

Beth Anne Flowers, Rodeo queen, captivated the Rodeo audience as she led her court through coronation ceremonies before the variety show.

Silks 'n' satins bedeck the girls of the Rodeo court. Attendants from the three classes are Dianne Halley and Gerrie-Anne Daly, juniors; Sally Wiltshire, senior; Jane Evans and Cathy Wise, sophomores.

"A typical Red Skelton stare passes over the face of Patty Ribble as she portrays the TV star in a pantomime, "Sweet Violets."

"I won't go huntin' with you, Jake!" sings Judy Messmore to her nimrod partner, Louise Skinner, in a scene from the variety show.

Student Talent Presents Variety Show

"Let's Twist again!" says Charlie Lee as he and Dorothy Smith, Louise Courtney, and Cheryl Lee introduce the newest dance rage, the "Twist," to PHS students during the Rodeo.

"Hey, look us over." chorus the cast of the Fall Rodeo of 1961 as they fill the stage during the grand finale. Students were rewarded for their labor by performing for a full house both nights of the show.

For Second Rodeo Performance of '61

For the first time, the PHS Rodeo was a variety show composed of separate acts presented by talented students rather than a show utilizing a theme as in the past.

Dressed in feminine attire, the P-Club members pantomimed the song "Bushel and a Peck." The Tigerettes charmed the audience with an exotic dance to "Persian Market Place," while the Majorettes performed a precision drill to "Toy Soldiers."

Two old favorites, "Shine On Harvest Moon" and "When You Wore a Tulip," were sung by the choir and audience in Mitch Miller "sing-along" style. Tim Noble led the group as "Mitch."

Selections by the Choir and Swing Choir, plus other entertaining skits, made the PHS Rodeo of 1961 a memorable event.

"Watch those cues, Sally." Mr. Carroll Wright, director, tells Sally Wiltshire, student director, as he explains the intricacies of directing a Rodeo. Listening in on the conversation are Mr. Wayne Taylor, art director; Judy Waltz, accompanist, and Mr. James Noble, music director.

Seniors Portray Dobie and Friends

"The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" was presented by the Senior Class on April 6, 1962. The play opens at Salmon P. Chase High School on a typical troublesome day for Dobie. Dobie's problems center around Helen, a sophisticated girl whom Dobie worships; Petey, the athletic boy friend of Helen, and Bonnie, the ever-faithful admirer of Dobie. Having depleted the funds of the school paper, Dobie comes up with the idea of a grand subscription dance to raise money. When he hires an off-beat comedy band for the dance and can't sell any tickets, it seems the end of the line for Dobie. However, with the help of Happy Stella, Bonnie, and Limbo Lamb, Dobie manages to get himself out of trouble and to work everything out satisfactorily.

"I'll shake you until your eyeballs are dancing in their sockets," says Petey Bellows (Kraig Dawalt) to Dobie Gillis (Jim Grund). Bonnie (Vicki Welke) and Helen (Sally Wiltshire) try to save Dobie from Petey's wrath.

"Is everyone ready?" asks Susan Carlin, student director. The members of the Happy Stella Kowalski Band are ready to enliven the play with their antics and to add more problems to Dobie's life. They are R. Doucette, B. Zimmerman, F. Holmes, J. Howard, D. Blackman, and A. Wills.

Comedy Presented

A delightful comedy called "Pioneer, Go Home," by Richard Powell was presented by the Juniors. The story centered around the lives of some simple-minded people, the Quimpers. Pop Quimper, played by Kenny Oyler, was a delightful old reprobate who made a profession of being unemployed so that he could collect government compensation. His family consisted of a son, Toby, played by Tim Noble, and two unidentical twin daughters, South Orange and Morris Town. Holly Smith, portrayed by Barbara Potter, had romantic designs on Toby, but Toby didn't have the same idea.

The Quimpers, who were originally from New Jersey, settled in the state of Columbiana along a highway right-of-way and fouled up the plans of the Department of Public Improvements as well as of the United States government and the United Nations.

"Try the scene with a little more emotion," says Mary Jo Garber, student director, to Kenny Oyler, Tim Noble, and Barbara Potter as they practice their parts in the Junior Play, "Pioneer, Go Home."

A lively crap game excites the cast members as they rehearse a scene from the play. The amateur actors are: Kneeling: E. Crume, M. Scott, K. Dove, T. Bender, F. Gilbert, K. Bird, J. Shultz. Standing: R. Thompson, M. Cole, S. Crowden, T. Mullett, R. Baber, E. Eder, S. Craig, D. Randolph, S. O'Connell, M. Morefield, S. Malott.

Drumming up enthusiasm at a typical Friday afternoon pep session keeps the yell leaders on their toes. Skits, music, and pep talks spiced this year's sessions and put the team and fans in a winning mood.

Examining the proof of his scholastic prowess is Bill Goodwin, one of Peru High School's top brains. Bill's cumulative record card shows nothing but big round A's in the toughest courses PHS has to offer. Bill also was a National Merit Scholarship finalist.

"What was our assignment?" asks Mary Jane Ralstin of Lynn Babcock as they snatch a few moments' study in a favorite senior girls' loafing spot. This senior corridor also serves sometimes as an off-limits annex to the cafeteria.

We Yelled, Worked, Got Sick, Played

Placing a cool cloth on David Berryman's brow, Mrs. Bernice LeMaster, school nurse, makes her patient comfortable, as Linda Sharp, a helper, looks on. The nurse's office ministers to students' minor ills.

"Hats off in the building," says Pat Arrick to Mr. Snowman, one of two such decorations which stood guard at the Girls' League Christmas dance. Admiring the Kleenex masterpiece are Bob Mangene, Kate Buffington, Keith Bird, Martha Scott, and Abby Taylor. Over 100 couples attended this annual affair.

In Fact, We Scarcely Missed Frosh!

Checking attendance slips for Miss Charlotte Baker, secretary to the principal, are the office helpers. This year's assistants are B. Aikman, C. Howenstine, N. Myers, K. Bird, J. Reed, K. Kreutzer, B. Bateman, J. Langdon, P. Devine, and D. Eckelbarger.

"Here's how you scored," says Dean of Boys Noel Davis to National Merit Scholarship finalists Bill Goodwin and Fred Holmes. Semi-finalists Archie Wills and Jim Grund look on with interest.

"What's new this week?" asks Kenny Oyler of Homer Bates as he and other home room presidents pick up Peruvians in Room 216, the publications office. Pete Horst waits patiently behind the two, hoping there'll be some papers left for his room.

Envious glances are cast by Sophomore Larry Dunton, who looks forward to the time when he will be able to "sport" senior cords as do Hal Sonafrank and Kathy Geberin.

"Hitting the books" in study hall is one way to cut down on homework, as Darl Rockenbaugh and Sara Spandau well know. These two juniors find second period assembly much less crowded since freshman students are no longer in the building.

Seniors deserve the best of everything . . .

NOW WE ARE THREE . . .

in ALBUM

As three, we experienced a traditional event at P.H.S. with a smile on our faces — we had our pictures taken. After patiently waiting for the finished product, we complained as usual that the pictures didn't look at all like us !

Gladness, Sadness Touch Hearts of 160 Graduating Seniors

One often hears that one never really appreciates what he has until he loses it, and if you don't believe it just ask any one of the 160 seniors who, on May 18, will don navy blue and march down one of the longest aisles in the world.

As freshmen we stood breathless on the threshold of a brand-new life. We were afraid of so many things, but we were anxious to begin. Big brothers and sisters introduced us to PHS and from that moment on we were a part of this school. Adjusting ourselves to new activities, teachers, and friends wasn't exactly easy. It took almost a whole semester for us to find our way around and lose some of the awkward shyness that settled on us that first day in high school.

All too soon that bittersweet year was gone and we found ourselves sophomores. We spent nine months being "in between"—not yet upperclassmen but no longer little frosh.

As juniors we presented "A Date With Judy" to raise funds for the annual Junior-Senior Prom. That was a year filled with all of the importance of being upperclassmen at last. There was so much to do and be in that we hardly found enough time for everything. Then last spring several of us were given the opportunity to attend summer institutes at various colleges.

We returned to school this fall with the knowledge that finally we were seniors and everything we did during these last nine months would be the last and somehow the best. We participated in our last Rodeo, went to our last ball game, and acted in our last class play. We suffered all of the agonies of college entrance examinations and worked twice as hard to make better grades. Now we stand on the threshold of another new life, and as we march down the aisle to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," we will lose not just four years of high school but a part of our youth that can never be replaced.

"Well, maybe a size or two smaller would fit better," muses Rich Newhouse as Nancy Redmon tries on his P jacket. Tony the Tiger looks on askance as to what these seniors will do next.

Senior lockers provide a common meeting place for students both before and after school. Here Tom Rubenalt and Birja Brauneller, two of PHS's "steadier" students, stop for a chat between classes.

Fun, Friends, and Fortitude Are All a Part of Senior Life

Occupying the west stairway, a favorite haunt of extemporaneous speakers, are Mary Jo Willingham, Barbara Parsons, and Ron Doucette. These seniors use this quiet spot to search for magazine articles in preparing their speeches.

IN MEMORIAM

Brown, Frank
Cooper, Dale
Morecraft, Jim
Siegfred, Mike

In the aftermath of that final football game, Seniors Tom Scott and John Hettwer find themselves a bit "grubby" and much the worse for wear.

Only 1/4 of a note card to go! Senior Jerry Bond eagerly looks forward to finishing his cards and beginning the final draft of his term paper for Senior Comp.

For Seniors, It's Final Games, Decisions

For these four PHS seniors that "final decision" has been made in favor of Indiana University. Kathy Geberin, Patty Devine, Sally Wiltshire, and Judy Waltz discuss their future plans while looking through an IU catalog.

"But can we afford a false ceiling?" ponder the Junior Class officers as they decide on decorations for the Prom. Decorating for this dance was one of the major problems that confronted Gerrie-Anne Daly, secretary; Pat Brindle, vice president; Keith Bird, president, and Jerry Bradley, treasurer.

Juniors Proudly Wear Class Rings, Make Plans For Prom

"Aren't these class rings sharp?" exclaim Jim Fry, Bill Mowbray, and Nicki Pearcy as they proudly display their symbol of upperclassmanship.

From September until May, officers of the Junior Class were kept busy directing the activities traditional to the class. Miss Ina Hornish, sponsor, assisted the officers with their duties.

Juniors proudly wore their class rings for the first time. To raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom, the class presented the comedy, "Pioneer Go Home," to a near-capacity audience on Wednesday evening, February 7.

Hiring a band, choosing a theme, and arranging for refreshments and decorations—all these tasks had to be performed by the officers and committee members in charge of the Prom, May 11.

As the year drew to a close, the Class of '63 suddenly realized that their high school days were slipping by, and that next year would be the last. In their final appearance of the year, officers of the class led the processional at Commencement exercises.

Row 3: Sylvia Woolley, Jennie Worden, Judy Wyneken, Mike Yater.

From the looks on the faces of these Junior Tigerettes, this must have been one of the games we won. The girls are seen in sailor costumes worn for a half-time show, one of many given during 1961-62.

Taking a picture of oneself is usually considered very difficult, but John Waltz, photographer, managed to do it somehow. With his trusty camera, Mr. Waltz shot almost all the yearbook pictures.

All smiles after the election results were announced are the sophomore class officers: Jack Langdon, president; Cathy Wise, treasurer; Judy Nelp, secretary, and John Allbritten, vice president. These officers helped the committee to select a pattern for their class rings.

Selecting Class Rings Is Among Activities of Sophomores

This year's sophomores are the first to say they have been the youngest class in school for two years. The reason for this fact is Peru's new 6-3-3 educational system. The completion of the new Junior High School building eliminated freshmen from the old building.

Sophomores had two principal tasks to perform during the year. First, they had to choose their class rings. A group of students were elected through their homerooms to choose the ring style and crest. Second, the sophomores performed the annual task of preparing the Tig-Arena for the baccalaureate and commencement exercises. Members of the class were appointed to obtain from their churches, bouquets of flowers which were to be used to decorate the speakers' platform. Jack Langdon, class president, and John Allbritten, vice president, lighted the candles before the exercises began. The Class of '64 was helped during the year by their sponsors, Miss Elizabeth Ridenour and Mr. Brentis Berkshire.

"I hope my lock works," says Mary Bullock, while Veda Siegfred and Alicia Anderson give helpful advice. After two years in the "cubby-hole," sophomores still find it hard to master lock combinations.

Superintendent and School Board Govern Peru City Schools

On the second Monday of every month, the conference room in the superintendent's office becomes the meeting place of the eight people who carry out the administrative work of the Peru School City—the school board. Seated are Mrs. Mary Robinson, school board secretary; Mr. William Bullock, Mr. Paul Fultz, and Mr. George Long. Standing are Mr. Robert Haig, school attorney; Mr. Robert Thompson, Mr. Fred Fechtman, and Mr. Duey Cypherd.

Mr. Fred Fechtman, superintendent of Peru city schools, carries out the difficult job of coordinating the work of all eight city schools and serving as the schools' representative to the school board. Working with Mr. Fechtman are Mrs. Mary Tresch, the superintendent's secretary; Mrs. Marian Lingenfelter, attendance officer, and Mrs. Mary Robinson, secretary to the school board.

The school board is a five-man board which is elected by the City Council to serve three-year terms. One of the most important items on this year's agenda was the proposed reorganization plan which, if adopted, would affect Peru and Erie Township schools as well as the city schools. If it does go into effect, this plan would increase the work of the school board to such a degree that it would be enlarged to a seven-man board. A new salary schedule for the teachers was also an important issue during the year.

Three down, one to go, reflects Mr. Fechtman as he examines blueprints for the new Holman School, now under construction on the site of the old building. Supervising school construction has been his major project for the past four years.

Mr. Delph Finds That a Principal's Job is Never Finished

From eight o'clock in the morning until long after three-thirty in the afternoon, Mr. Earl Delph performs the arduous job of efficient school administration.

The work of a high school principal is never done. Mr. Delph must administer the policies set up by the school board, prepare class schedules, and serve as extra-curricular treasurer. He must also work out problems of the athletic department and arrange school activities as well as work with the Student Council to promote student government. Mr. Delph has the unique quality of being genuinely interested in every one of the seven hundred students at Peru High School—and in all alumni, too.

From the very first day of school every student is aware of his presence—in the halls, on the PA system with the morning announcements, and in the auditorium making speeches. Everyone remembers his famous "Harry Truman" speech and the yells he leads at the pep sessions.

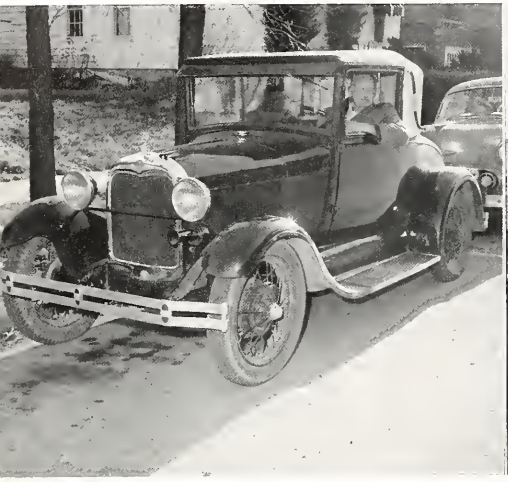
To Mr. Delph, the most important things in school life are not policies and regulations, but the activities which are designed to make students better, happier citizens. He is always willing to help in every way he can. The casts of both the Junior and Senior Plays are often allowed to make announcements and give previews of their plays over the PA system. Many times Mr. Delph has made it possible for the speech team to leave during school hours and excused the DeMolay boys to help with such worthy community projects as unloading the bloodmobile.

Mr. Delph's interest in us and the encouragement he gives to all worthwhile projects make the years at Peru High School a happy and rewarding experience.

Miss Charlotte Baker and Miss Susie Dyer assist with many of the administrative duties. Miss Baker, as Mr. Delph's secretary, finds her days full of keeping track of absentees, filling out honor roll cards, making transcripts of grades for college-bound seniors, and presiding over the telephone. Miss Dyer serves as the extra-curricular fund bookkeeper, and her job also includes selling basketball, football, and cafeteria tickets.

At the end of a busy day Mr. Delph pauses for a moment to gaze out of his office window. Keeping up with the students and problems of PHS is not an easy job, and Mr. Delph seldon finds himself idle.

Formidable Faculty Does Have Its "Human" Side



Some people actually can't afford a newer model, but with Mr. Jess Dice old cars like his 1929 Model A Ford are an enjoyable hobby. Mr. Dice is Peru High School's chemistry and physics teacher.

Relaxing in the new teachers' lounge are Mr. William Siderewicz and Miss Patricia Brown, both of whom joined the PHS faculty this fall. Mr. Siderewicz teaches health and safety, while Miss Brown is the new Dean of Girls.

Teachers are human even if students don't always realize it. The PHS student body was awakened to this fact when the new faculty lounge was opened this autumn. All of a sudden those grim-faced teachers became happy people, for now they could escape during free time into a pleasant atmosphere of quiet with "No Students Allowed."

Mrs. Alice Moon accepted the non-paying position of "keeper of the coffee urn" and daily brews the refreshing stuff which somehow adds new life to tired teachers. Cleaning up at the end of each day is the new job of Mrs. Ruth Ann Ramsey. There is also a coke machine in the lounge for teachers who prefer soft drinks.

Not only did the lounge improve faculty dispositions, but the absence of curriculum studies and IQ reports also helped to make teaching a pleasanter job this year.

Although he seems quite formal here, Mr. Philip Fox, senior composition teacher, really prefers grading papers in a reclining position, with plenty of coffee at hand.

These Are the 39 Men and Women Who Impart Knowledge

Charlotte Boker
Secretary to the Principal.

Brentis Berkshire, BS., MS.

Robert Biddle, B.S.
Health, History, Head Basketball Coach, Cross-Country Coach, Intramural Director, P Club Sponsor.

Patricia Brown, B.S., M.S.
Shorthand, Dean of Girls, Girls' League Sponsor.

Helen Brundage, A.B., M.A.
Librarian, Librarian Association Sponsor.

Noel Davis, A.B., M.A.
College Algebra, Solid Geometry, Dean of Boys, Senior Hi-Y Sponsor, Safety Patrol Sponsor, Testing Director.

Jess Dice, A.B., M.A.
Chemistry, Physics.

Susie Dyer
Extra-Curricular Bookkeeper.

Dean Finch, A.B., M.A.
English, Assistant Dean of Girls, Girls' League Sponsor.

Philip Fox, B.S.
English, Journalism, Peruvian Adviser, Quill and Scroll Sponsor.

Marion Hamilton, B.S., M.S.
Bookkeeping, Typing, Senior Y-Teens Sponsor

Carol Ann Holmes, B.S.
Girls' Physical Education, GAA Sponsor, Pepettes Sponsor.

Norman Holmes, B.S.
Health, Woodworking, Industrial Club Sponsor.

Ina Hornish, A.B., M.A.

Mary Keith, A.B.
English, Narcissus Adviser, Quill and Scroll Sponsor.

To the Endless Succession of Students at Peru High School

Robert Larson, B.P.E., M.P.E.

Bernice LeMaster, R.N., B.S.
School Nurse, Health Education.

Marian Lingenfelter
Attendance Officer.

Franklin Minion, B.S.
Printing, Peruvian Printshop Adviser.

Alice Moon, B.S.
Typing, Junior Y-Teens Sponsor.

James Noble, B.S.
Band Director, Choir Director, Belles, Tri-M Sponsor, Rodeo Music Director.

Paul Prible, A.B., M.A.
Commercial Arithmetic, Health, Biology.

Donald Queener, B.S.
English, Speech, NFL Sponsor.

Ruth Ann Ramsey, A.B.
Homemaking, FHA Sponsor, Girls' League Sponsor.

Herschel Rector, B.S., M.S.
Drafting.

Elizabeth Ridenour, B.S., M.S.
General Mathematics, Geometry, Sophomore Class Sponsor, FTA Sponsor, Girls' League Sponsor, National Honor Society Sponsor.

Mary Robinson
Secretary to the School Board.

B. L. Rufe, A.B., M.S.
Algebra, Assistant Principal, Audio-Visual Director, Ticket Manager, National Honor Society Sponsor, Mathematics Club Sponsor.

Robert Showalter, B.S., M.A.
Speech and Hearing Therapist.

William F. Siderewicz, B.S.
Driver Training, Assistant Football Coach, Assistant Wrestling Coach, Boys' League Sponsor.

And Patiently Help Them Shape the Course of Their Lives

Clifford Snyder, B.S., M.S.
Typing, Bookkeeping, Health

Albert Spandau, B.S, M.A.
Government, Senior Class Sponsor, Student Council Sponsor, Athletic Director.

Donald Stone, A.B., M.S.
Geometry, Mathematics, Commercial Law, Salesmanship, College Algebra, Student Council Sponsor, C-21 Sponsor.

English, Speech, Stage Manager, Rodeo Director, Junior Play Director, Senior Play Director, NFL Sponsor.

Alma Zeigler, B.S.
History, English, Junior Red Cross Sponsor.

In Memoriam

Students and faculty alike were shocked by the untimely death on February 7 of Mr. Ralph Poff, chairman of the Social Studies Department. Only 34, Mr. Poff died of a heart ailment from which he had suffered for several years.

Mr. Poff, a 1946 graduate of Peru High School, had taught at this school since 1955. He was a Senior Class Sponsor, a faculty adviser of the Boys' League, and a member of the concessions committee.

A former athlete himself, he was intensely interested in the athletic fortunes of PHS. His classes were enlivened by his keen interest in all things political.

In his death students lost a fine instructor and a good friend; his fellow teachers, a beloved colleague; his family, a devoted husband and father; and the community, a valued citizen.

Even dogs study at Peru High School . . .

NOW WE ARE THREE . . .

in the CLASSROOM

As three, we undertook the real business of high school — getting an education. Some of our teachers were no longer with us ... some courses were no longer offered ... many classrooms were empty. In spite of these changes, our scholastic year proceeded serenely.

English Courses Develop Students' Communication Skills;

Sophomores have a choice between taking journalism and taking grammar. Students taking English continue their study of fundamentals and usage. Journalists who have completed their course in beginning journalism, usually fill positions on the Narcissus or The Peruvian later on.

Although sophomores may have a choice between English and journalism, all students must take speech. Speech gives students poise when speaking to a group as well as confidence when meeting individuals. Dramatics was also offered this year. Students taking dramatics put on auditoriums.

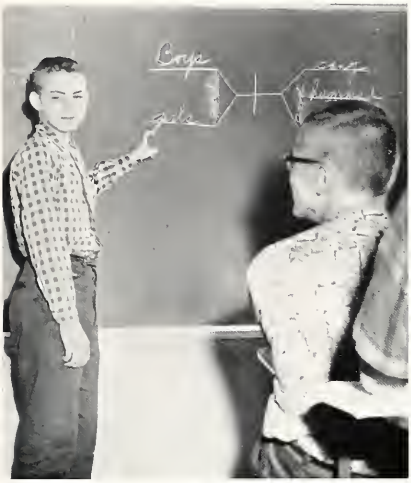
Besides grammar, juniors spend a great deal of their time on American literature. This course ties in with their study of American History, a junior course.

Most seniors on the college entrance course take Senior Composition under Mr. Philip Fox. The seniors try to avoid "penalty errors" as they express their opinions and feelings in themes. The main project for the course is the writing of a 3,500-word research paper.

"Let me see now! I'll put this story here," says Bunny Pier as she works at making up her own Peruvian, a beginning journalism assignment which is hard work, but fun.

"Body actions are very important," says Mr. Carroll Wright as he helps Herbert Gann show a speech class how to walk and gesture without being obvious. This is one phase of speech that every student must learn.

Grammar Still Important



Ralph Stitt shows his all-male sophomore English class how to diagram a sentence with compound subject and verb. While difficult, diagraming helps students understand better the parts of the sentence.

"What would be a good book to read?" asks Sula Salmons as she looks over a book list for college-bound students. All juniors must read at least one library book every six weeks as part of their assignment.

Research, Research, Research! This is what seniors taking Senior Composition did during the first thirteen weeks of the first semester in order to prepare their research paper. Lynn Babcock, Nancy Olinger, Mary Jo Willingham, David Miley, and Diane Morgan search for references from library publications and files.

Do those little scratches really mean something? They do to students taking shorthand. Connie Black tries to write shorthand at the rate of 70 words a minute as Susie Bowman dictates to her.

"Here's one budget done without a mistake," says Charlie Lee as he prepares to hand in his typing assignment. Bonnie Walker, however, does not have Charlie's luck, and she has to discard still another incorrect paper. Budgets provide much work for student and teacher alike.

Commercial, Social Studies Classes Give Practical Help

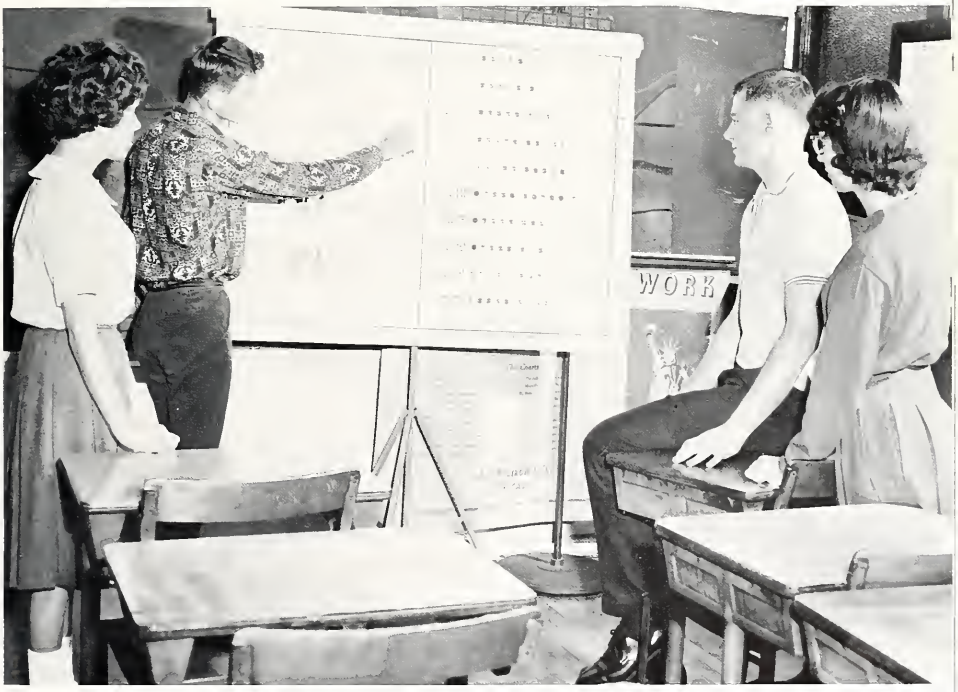
Preparing for the future seems to be the goal of practically every student in high school, but this is especially true of students on the business education courses. Beginning students take such subjects as bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, or commercial law. Juniors may take shorthand or beginning typing; seniors may take more advanced courses in bookkeeping, shorthand, and typing.

Many students who plan to go to college take at least one semester of typing. During the second semester of this year, a new one-semester course in typing was offered during the noon hour. Each of these courses is intended to prepare a student as well as possible for a commercial career.

Three years of history are offered to all students of Peru High School, but only two years of history are required for graduation. World history, an elective, is popular among students on the college entrance course at Peru High School. Students taking this course study the cultures, various forms of government, and historical backgrounds of foreign countries.

A required subject for all juniors is U. S. History. Many students find this to be a very enjoyable subject, but work hard on assigned term papers.

Government proves to be an unforgettable subject for seniors. Mr. Albert Spandau spends much time with his classes teaching the Income Tax forms.



Joyce Long watches Raymond Ege as he uses a chart to show Martin Daly and Betty Darby what the national debt was immediately after the Korean War. Charts of this type are used to show facts and statistics concerning the federal government.

Health, Safety Required; Swimming at "Y" New P. E. Activity

Swimming classes at the "Y" were offered to gym students for the first time this year. Getting ready to douse themselves are girls of the fourth period physical education class.

Every student at PHS is required to take a semester of safety, a semester of health, and two years of physical education.

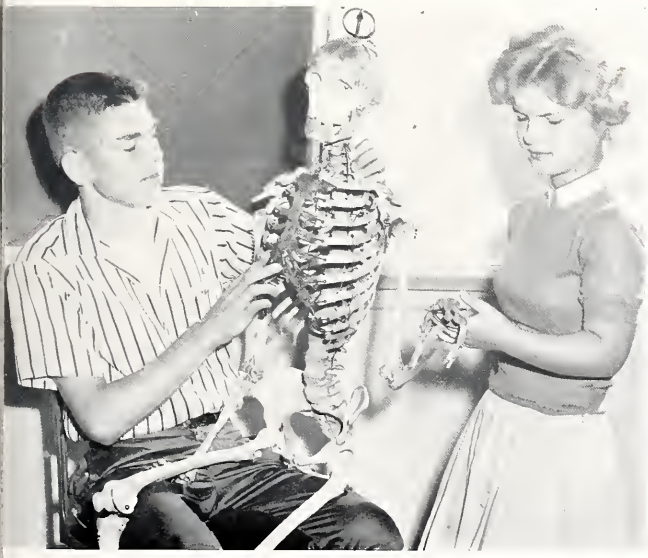
Safety teaches the student the structure and function of the car as well as good driving practices. Students take behind-the-wheel tests in order to learn how to drive. After learning rules of the road, they may qualify for beginning driver's permits.

Health teaches the student about the human body: its functions, its needs, and ways in which to maintain its good health. Skeletons and models of other parts of the body are useful in teaching health to the student.

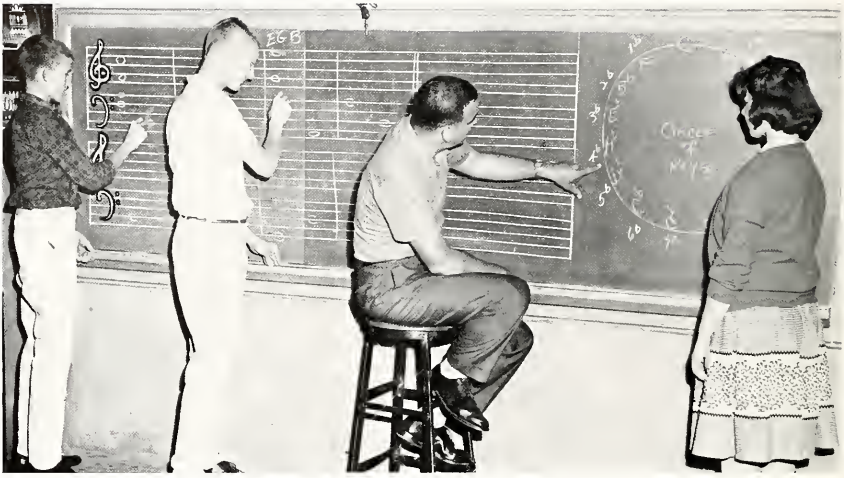
Gym classes provide exercise and adequate time for students to enjoy sports with one another. For the first time this year, boys and girls physical education classes were scheduled on alternate days.

Strengthening back muscles is the purpose of this exercise practiced during a boys' physical education class. Exercises of this kind help to keep the boys in shape and to provide good muscle-tone.

Getting ready to instruct beginning drivers in behind-the-wheel training is Mr. Larson. Some of the members of his safety class are Marlene Myers, Karen Kreutzer, Nancy Parkman, and Barbara Moore.



"Alas, poor Yorick," quotes Jim Ratliff to Lana Bonney, as he examines a human skeleton. This skeleton is used in health classes to help students learn the functions of the bones.



The circle of keys is the starting point for students studying harmony. Leroy Pope and Hal Sonafrank practice constructing intervals while Mr. Noble explains the diagram to Gloria Harris.

Peru High School Students May Choose from Electives:

Painting a still life is one of the requirements for students taking art. Gary Correll creates a picture which he hopes will faintly resemble the scene that Mr. Wayne Taylor has set up.

Experimenting with a model of a Roman catapult intrigues Larry Jenkins, as well as Janis Glassburn, Mary Bullock, and Tom Jones. In Latin classes, students often complete projects such as this to make the life of the Romans more vivid.

Music, Art, Foreign Languages

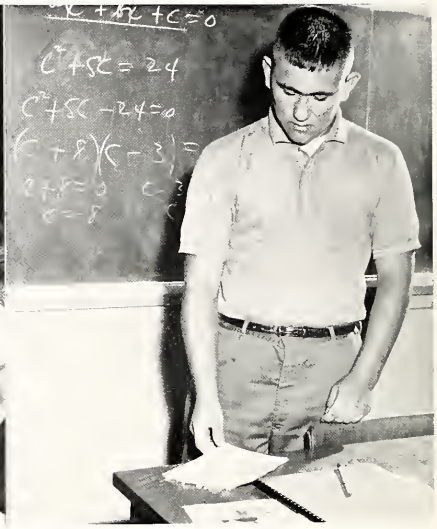
The arts are not forgotten at PHS. Students having good academic grades may enroll in band or choral organizations. A complete music curriculum was prepared by Mr. Noble and offered to students for the first time this year.

In art classes, students learn to paint, draw, sculpture, and work in ceramics under the direction of Mr. Taylor. Sometimes students discover hidden talents which can be developed with practice and instruction.

College-bound students usually take two years of Latin or Spanish as an elective. This year Mary Jo Willingham was the first PHS student ever to take third-year Spanish. Both Latin and Spanish students enjoyed film strips and records as special audio-visual aids.

"La taza," says Lance Johnston in Spanish as he identifies one of the many everyday articles on the table. Marsha Boone acts as "teacher" for this exercise prepared by Miss Hornish.

Puzzled by a problem in advanced algebra, Judy Hanks summons Mr. Stone for some last-minute help. Sam Goodwin and Pat Siblisk look on, trying to understand, too.



Collecting papers for one day's work in college algebra is Joe Colelli's job. College algebra is a second-semester course offered to students who have completed the advanced algebra course.

"Is that an isosceles triangle?" asks Judy Hopper of Kathy Volpert. Judy looks confused as Bruce Miller and Ted Comerford exhibit other geometric figures, all of which must be identified.

Math and Science Require Brains, Bravery, and Diligence

Lewis Ulrey is demonstrating a Jacob's Ladder as Roberta Thompson, Carolyn Latta, and Jim Neher wonder what will happen next. This is only part of the equipment in the physics laboratory.

Math is becoming more and more important in our fast-changing world of today. Students enrolled in the College Entrance Course sometimes major in mathematics, although they must take one year each of geometry and algebra. PHS offers everything from general math to trigonometry. Those who are going to major in business take general math and get the basic fundamentals, while those who will be entering a scientific profession will need all the math they can get.

Chemistry students perform experiments, shrugging off broken beakers and acid burnings as just part of a day's work. Photometry, dominant wave-lengths, gauss units, and dichronic crystals are some of the words whose meanings are learned by those taking physics. These subjects provide a basis for college science training.

"This is how a laboratory balance works," says Tom Miller to Nancy Myers. Nancy tries to understand the principle of this mechanism for chemistry, since she might have to explain it later.

While Attending PHS, Students Learn Useful Vocations

Although mathematics and science play an important role in today's education, people are beginning to realize that students cannot be restricted just to these subjects but that some must prepare themselves for the future in a vocational trade. Many boys do this by taking the industrial course, while girls take the home economics course.

Metal shop and woodwork are popular courses among the boys. Students taking these courses learn how to use various tools such as lathes, grinders, drills, planes, and other shop tools. Boys taking woodwork make pieces of furniture and help construct scenery for the dramatic productions at PHS. Many boys on the industrial course also take drafting and printing.

The girls' home economics course is just as important as the boys' industrial course. Students taking home economics learn how to sew and cook. Throughout the year the girls discuss home furnishings, child care, family living, and many other aspects of daily life.

Jerry Pogue and Jon Clawson peer through safety goggles as they grind a lathe center with a cylindrical grinder in machine shop. This is one of the many tools that the boys must learn to operate.

"A place for everything and everything in its place," is the motto of Tom Ewer, Bill Geiselman, Alvia Smith, and Ted Pyeritz as they put away their tools before going to their next class.

Pinning a pattern on material, one of the first steps in making a garment, occupies Pat Avery and Sandra Critchfield. After the girls finish doing this, they will sew the parts together to make a dress, a job which may look easy, but isn't. Home Ec girls even made curtains for the new teachers' lounge.

"Will too many cooks spoil the broth?" asks Rita Qualio of Christina Deaton and Mary Everett as the three whip up a cake in homemaking class.

Smiling through the suds, Dorothy Marcotte and Dorothy Trueblood know that washing the dishes can be fun when there are two to share the task.

"And away we go," for a half-time show . . .

NOW WE ARE THREE . . .

in ACTIVITIES

As three, we realized the importance of extra-curricular activities. We chose organizations that offered us opportunities for leadership, responsibility, and fun! Combining these three qualities, we grew to be better citizens.

Girls' League Plans "Mistletoe Magic," Mother-Daughter Tea

The Girls' League of PHS was very active again this year. This organization, whose membership is comprised of all girls in PHS, sponsored the Kid Party in October. This has become an annual party where the guests dress as little kids, and prizes are given for the best costumes. This year The Circus City Five, a combo of five boys from PHS, furnished music for the Kid Party.

"Mistletoe Magic" was the theme chosen for the Girls' League Christmas Dance, which more than 100 couples attended. Sprigs of mistletoe hanging all around the gym were enjoyed by all who attended. The Christmas Auditorium was also presented by the Girls' League.

A spring function of this group was the Mother-Daughter Tea. All of the girls in school were invited to attend and to bring their mothers as guests. Each mother received a corsage as she entered and was entertained throughout the evening by some of the talent of PHS.

Abby Taylor and Judy Craft served as art co-chairmen for all Girls' League functions.

"Which band shall we hire for the Christmas Dance?" asks Miss Patricia Brown, Girls' League sponsor, of Girls' League President Sally Wiltshire, while Kay Doty, first vice president, and Barbara Parsons, second vice president, assist in the choice.

Checking designs for the dance programs are the other Girls' League officers. They are Patty Devine, corresponding secretary; Susie McCarthy treasurer, and Carol Erlenbaugh, recording secretary.

Helping with various Girls' League activities are the members of the Girls' League Council, who are chosen from each homeroom. They are: Bottom row: J. Craft, S. Siblisk, D. Smith, C. Howenstine, M. Sahaidachny, A. Taylor, B. Holmes. Row 2: S. Craig, P. Shannon, M. Flora, C. Soames, S. Blackman, S. Adkins, P. Schoolman, J. O'Connell. Row 3: D. Morgan, J. Prior, M. Boone, S. Zook, C. Baker, T. Mullett, A. Disborough.

Helping with the projects of the Boys' League are the Council members who are elected from each homeroom. They are: Bottom row: J. Hoeppner, L. Holmes, B. McCormick, R. Ege, B. Jones, R. Radel, T. Sawyer, K. Comer. Row 2: J. Colelli, J. Gilgrist, D. Rassner, D. VanTreese, R. Yard, T. Chapin, J. Rhodes, K. Dawalt, J. Nye. Row 3: Mr. Holmes, B. Mangene, B. Barnhill, T. Scott, J. Hettwer, J. Shultz, J. Herron, Mr. Siderewicz.

Boys' League Keeps Traditions and Carries Out New Ideas

Many activities were planned this year by the Boys' League. The Council sponsored a trip to Chicago to see a game played by the Chicago Bears, a professional football team. Although the trip was scheduled for those on the Council, other boys had a chance to substitute if a member could not go. The Council also made arrangements to see a college basketball game.

Traditional events were also kept in the Boys' League schedule. The annual Thanksgiving Auditorium was presented, with the Reverend Avery Miley giving the address. The Council planned the Sweater Hop, which was March 24 in the old gym, with music furnished by the Circus City Five.

Since there were no freshman boys entering high school this year, the members did not have as many students to introduce to PHS. However, they showed new pupils around the building and acted as big brothers.

Preparing stage props for the Thanksgiving Auditorium are the Boys' League Cabinet members. John Hettwer, treasurer, begins work while Ron Yard, president; Tom Scott, secretary, and Danny VanTreese, vice president, offer their advice.

Student Council Directs Turnabout Week, Noontime Dancing

One of the main objectives of the Student Council is to help solve the problems of the students. Members of the Council are: Bottom row: K. Volpert, R. Baber, B. Day, D. Davis, S. Crowden, R. Thompson, J. Jackley, N. Redmon. Row 2: D. Briggs, D. VanTreese, H. Sonafrank, S. Reed, D. Eckelbarger, C. White, C. Davidson, J. Allbritten, L. Jenkins. Row 3: Mr. Donald Stone, L. Wernz, F. Welke, J. Bradley, K. Bird, W. Behney, B. Smalley, J. Langdon, R. Dobler, Mr. Albert Spandau.

Turnabout Week was one of the big projects sponsored by the Student Council this year. The week started the night of February 7 and and extended to February 14.

The Student Council was in charge of many other activities to improve PHS. Noon time dances were under the supervision of Council members. These dances helped reduce congestion in the halls at noon. The Student Body raised over $600 in the United Fund Drive, which the Council sponsored. New fire escape signs were also put in every room of the building to promote safety in the school. In order to make money for their projects, Student Council members sold jewelry in the halls.

Richard Dobler, president of the Student Council, and all the members strove to accomplish their goal of improving Peru High.

"Get on your mark, get set, go!" exclaims Della Eckelbarger, secretary, to the other Student Council officers as she starts them on their way to a successful United Fund Drive. Besides Della the other officers are David Briggs, sergeant-at-arms; Richard Dobler, president; Logan Wernz, vice president, and Jerry Bradley, treasurer.

Continuing its winning ways, the National Forensic League has remained a leading power in statewide competition. During the year, speakers have traveled many miles to sixteen meets throughout the state, winning or placing in almost every contest entered. Some NFL members also participated in three student congresses, or make-believe legislatures.

NFL has expanded this year. Approximately seventy students are members in comparison with thirty for the year before. Between thirty and forty Peru students enter various categories at each speech meet.

Mr. Donald Queener and his speech group are very enthusiastic about their bus and bus driver, Mr. C. E. Weideman. Without this inexpensive means of transportation it would have been difficult to enter so many students at each meet.

Bringing in many points were Mary Jo Willingham, Louise Tschmel, Lindsay Hagen, Guy Washington, Martha Scott, Tim Noble, DeRees Clark, and Dorothy Randolph.

Marking up NFL points is Mary Jo Willingham, president, observed by Holly Stephenson, treasurer; Louise Tschmel, secretary; Ron Doucette, vice president, and Martha Scott, historian.

Maintaining high standards in speech at PHS are NFL members. They are: Bottom row: J. Evans, E. Rommelfanger, J. Hopper, L. Hagen, M. Willingham, L. Tschmel, H. Stephenson, M. Scott, D. Randolph, E. Crume, J. Craft, S. Hough, S. Craig. Row 2: G. Daly, M. Garber, S. Crowden, B. Potter, C. Miller, M. Montgomery, S. Eder, C. Soames, B. Johnson, S. Sterling. Row 3: R. Doucette, A. Stark, B. Parsons, A. Kunkle, D. Landis, P. Duncan, R. McLaughlin, L. Jenkins, D. Jordan, S. Scott. Row 4: Mr. Queener, L. Johnston, J. Langdon, T. Noble, J. Howard, G. Washington, T. Burke, D. Hostetler, T. Lewis, J. Herrell.

Y-Teens Groups Help School and Community During Year

Helping decorate PHS at Christmas was one of the responsibilities of the Senior Y-Teens members. They are: Bottom row: N. Redmon, M. Ralstin, S. Sampson, C. Erlenbaugh, B. Parsons, C. Ohman, L. Sharp, L. Smith, S. Sterling, D. Eckelbarger, D. Stegman, Miss Hamilton. Row 2: C. Howenstine, N. Myers, P. Gallagher, P. Devine, K. Doty, B. Brauneller, L. McDaniel, R. Miller, P. McComas, J. Ward, J. Long, L. Snyder. Row 3: K. Geberin, V. Welke, S. Wiltshire, L. Babcock, D. Morgan, C. Latta, J. Waltz, K. Dixon, J. Reed, J. Prior, B. Flowers, P. Schoolman, S. Carlin.

The Y-Teens groups in PHS were very active again this year. From the time of initiation in the fall until the Y-Teens banquet in the spring, the members of these three groups were engaged in various charitable projects. Helping at a nursing home, decorating PHS at Christmas time, and collecting for the Heart Fund Drive were some of the good deeds performed by these girls.

Presidents of the three organizations were Kathy Geberin, seniors; Roberta Thompson, juniors, and Jean Wallace, sophomores.

Making favors for nursing home patients was undertaken by the Junior Y-Teens members. They are: Bottom row: S. Woolley, S. Salmons, R. Baber, J. Hanks, M. Moreiield, C. Struble, M. Fooshee. Row 2: S. Crowden, C. Miller, D. Robinson, R. Lavoncher, S. Bolner, B. Walker, T. Bender. Row 3: J. Wyneken, J. Sonafrank, S. Spandau, B. Potter, M. Garber, J. Loe, L. Courtney. Row 4: Mrs. Moon, S. McCarthy, K. Johnson, T. Mullett, H. Bell, K. Wacknitz, D. Longenecker.

Other Junior Y-Teens members helping in community affairs are: Bottom row: L. Skinner, K. Butt, C. Ebert, C. Black, M. Horr, M. Richter, D. Smith, P. Korba. Row 2: E. Sharpf, L. Kramer, J. Warder, S. English, D. Smith, M. Montgomery, G. Geberin. Row 3: P. Shannon, B. Aikman, A. Myers, K. Ulery, R. Thompson, M. Boone, J. Miller. Row 4: M. Duncan, M. Morecraft, N. Pearcy, S. Malott, L. Smith, C. Nash, S. Hays, M. Flora.

Inducted early in the fall were the members of Sophomore Y-Teens. They are: Bottom row: S. Gaunt, K. Volpert, R. Carswell, P. Hilgeman, K. Saine, K. Graf, J. Carlin, A. Taylor, S. Siblisk, S. Newby. Row 2: V. Chism, L. Hicks, P. Avery, E. Boyd, M. Sawyer, N. Fry, J. Hopper, K. Hahn, J. Dobler, M. Bullock, S. Hemrick, L. Fishback, B. Black, B. Holmes, V. Sieglred, P. Gable, J. Bodey, Miss Hornish. Row 3: J. Glassburn, M. Laudenschlager, G. Harris, P. Shuler, J. Gladden, E. Rommelfanger, K. Yoder, M. Sahaidachny, C. Wise, B. Day, B. Wernz, M. Elsworth, S. Eldridge. Row 4: C. Turley, J. Creager, N. Ayres, J. English, J. Gustafson, D. Mitchell, J. Gochenour, C. Baker, S. Adkins, B. Fisher, C. Lee, M. Myers, J. Elliot, J. Evans. Row 5: N. Reineke, S. Jordan, B. Quick, M. Chapman, P. Wiltshire, C. White, M. King, J. Wallace, P. Weideman, E. Adams, S. Critchfield, J. Nelp, A. Disborough, B. Moore.

Girls' Clubs Seek Improvement of Selves, School, Community

Members of the Sophomore Y-Teens were busy this year helping with many civic affairs, including the Heart Fund drive in February. Under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Ann Ramsey, the Future Homemakers of America learned how to prepare well-balanced meals, how to make their own clothing, and how to become better homemakers.

To stimulate interest in books, Library Club members under Miss Brundage made posters and displays for the main hall. Loose-leaf notebooks containing book jackets were compiled to assist students in selecting books for outside reading. Again this year the group won first prize for the best badges at the convention of the Indiana High School Library Association.

Learning the art of caring for a home is the main goal of members of the Future Homemakers of America. They are: Bottom row: C. Hinton, W. Phillips, E. Rudolph, D. Tomlinson, C. Sherman, B. Huggins, J. Worden. Row 2: S. Shoemaker, B. Miller, E. Draving, D. Marcotte, M. Everett, M. Hollingsworth, R. Johnson, L. Smith. Row 3: J. Mosier, N. Thomas, P. Johnson, B. Place, S. Critchfield, A. Crook, D. Trueblood.

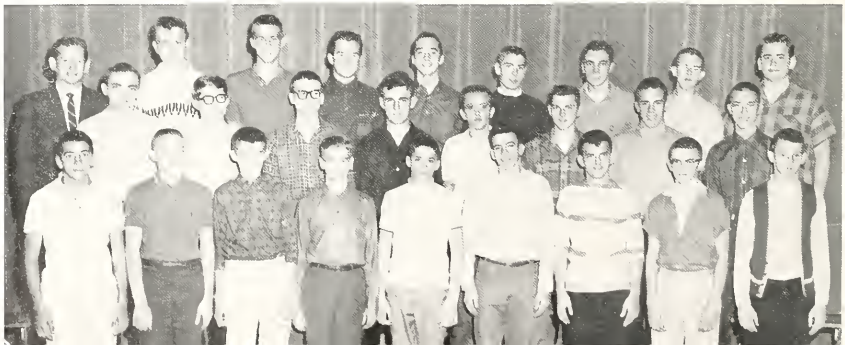
Hi-Y Members Strive for Self-Improvement and Other Goals

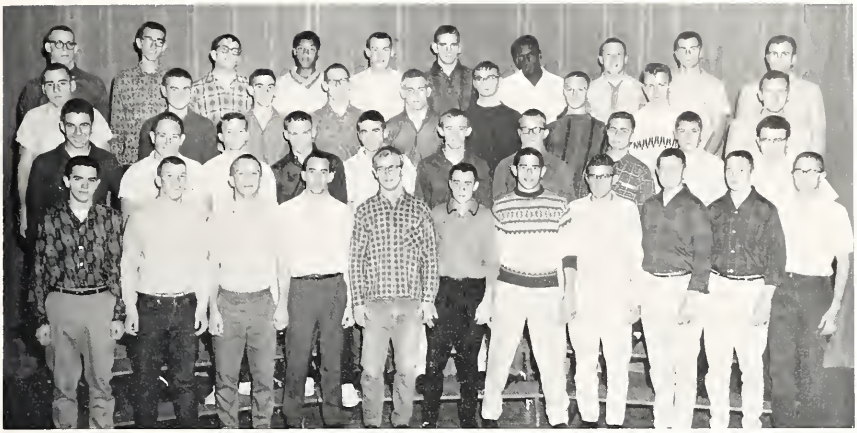
Membership in Senior Hi-Y is limited to junior and senior boys who wish to serve their community. Members are: Bottom row: K. Oyler, R. Helm, R. Keirn, J. King, T. Geberin, J. Personett, D. Pierce, E. Holdren, D. Means, K. Ballee. Row 2: G. Borden, A. Wills, D. Rassner, M. Hayes, D. Donaldson, M. McLaughlin, W. Angle, J. Gilgrist, J. Grund, T. Rubenalt, Mr. Davis. Row 3: G. Winters, F. Welke, J. Rhodes, J. Rook, D. Landis, B. Zimmerman, G. Shanabarger, B. Lighty, J. Blackman, B. Barnhill. Row 4: T. Miller, M. Daly, R. Dobler, C. Blackman, J. Blackman, J. Burkhart, L. Wernz, R. Newhouse, K. Dawalt, A. Smith.

Objectives of Hi-Y members are clean living, clean speech, clean athletics, clean scholarship, spiritual, mental, moral, and physical development, chivalry, self-control, and world brotherhood. Members work toward these goals by doing many things for the betterment of their school and community. One of the main projects this year was the rehabilitation of the sportsmanship board in the Tig-Arena.

Senior Hi-Y officers were Jim Grund, president; Logan Wernz, vice president; Kraig Dawalt, secretary; Ed Holdren, treasurer; Richard Newhouse, sergeant-at-arms, and Warren Angle, chaplain. Officers of Sophomore Hi-Y were Ronnie Bowland, president; Ralph Stitt, vice president; Leroy Pope, secretary; Jack Langdon, treasurer; John Allbritten, sergeant-at-arms, and Don Hostetler, chaplain.

Preparing CARE packages to be sent overseas was one of the projects of the Sophomore Hi-Y. Members are: Bottom row: D. Hostetler, R. Stitt, L. Pope, L. Jenkins, P. Horst, R. Hendricks, B. McKinley, J. Wolf, K. Comer. Row 2: R. Garver, J. Allbritten, J. Beauchamp, B. Miller, K. Layton, C. Phillips, B. Jones, G. Joseph. Row 3: Mr. Berkshire, R. Schubert, B. Musgrave, R. Bowland, J. Langdon, C. Davidson, D. Eckerley, P. Walker, M. Erlenbaugh.





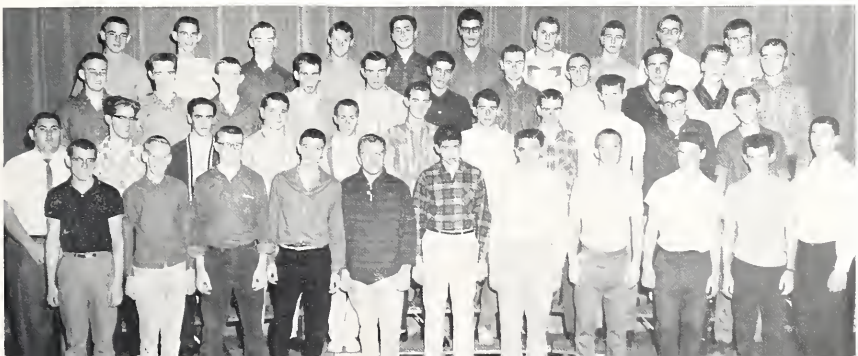
Major lettermen in PHS sports are P Club members. They are: Bottom row: D. Rassner, M. Chittum, S. Phillipy, D. VanTreese, R. Yard, L. Holmes, J. Bond, H. Butzin, H. Spranger, G. Spranger, M. Bullock. Row 2: B. Mangene, M. Plotner, R. Ege, J. Fry, R. Maggart, B. Zimmerman, D. Briggs, T. Rubenalt, M. Hayes, B. Barnhill. Row 3: J. Blackman, K. Dove, G. Borden, J. Bradley, J. Hettwer, R. Dobler, H. Sonafrank, R. Schubert, Mr. Biddle. Row 4: K. Bird, K. Eberle, J. Shultz, B. Abbey, T. Scott, D. Blackman, C. Lee, B. Smalley, R. Newhouse, Mr. Larson.

P Club Honors Athletes; Industrial Club Wins Float Prize

Major lettermen in all sports are entitled to membership in the P Club, which was sponsored by Mr. Robert Biddle and Mr. Robert Larson. P Club President Richard Newhouse conducted club meetings. Purchasing P Club pins and selling pencils in the main hall were the projects of the club this year.

The main activity of the Industrial Club was a vocational trip to Marion, where the boys toured the Fisher Body Plant. Members sponsored a car wash in January to help pay expenses for the trip. A prize-winning Homecoming float depicting a tiger beating a drum, was built by the Industrial Club. Mr. Norman Holmes and Mr. Randall Ward are sponsors.

Building the prize-winning Homecoming float this year were the Industrial Club members. They are: Bottom row: A. Stark, B. Randolph, D. Cypherd, J. Brown, S. Gerard, D. Myers, T. Gray, S. Phillipy, B. Geiselman, J. Hoeppner, Mr. Holmes. Row 2: Mr. Ward, M. See, J. Clawson, D. Burns, M. Yater, C. Chilcutt, A. Wills, B. Holland, J. Black, R. Croy, A. Binkerd. Row 3: J. Randolph, L. Biddle, D. Cassell, A. Sutton, D. Berryman, J. Marburger, M. Daly, F. Welke, B. Hiles, D. Miley, A. Smith. Row 4: T. Duncan, G. Hawley, D. Rockenbaugh, J. Pogue, D. Carr, G. Siders, R. Burns, T. Ewer, M. LeDoux, T. Ward.



"In you go!" laugh the GAA officers as they throw Karen Dixon, president, into the shower. The other officers are Nancy Doran, treasurer; Karen Johnson, recording secretary; Barbara Reed, recording secretary; Gerrie-Anne Daly, vice president, and Kathy Volpert, corresponding secretary.

Modern Dance Classes Offered to GAA Members This Year

Under the direction of Mrs. Carol Holmes, the Girls' Athletic Association had a very busy year. For the first time GAA members were offered gold sweatshirts designed like those from colleges.

Modern dancing was a new activity added to the program this year. The girls created dances in which they expressed their feelings. Sports included deck tennis, dodgeball, and kickball. Tournaments were conducted among the teams.

Bowling was also a popular sport this year. The girls bowled in teams on Monday after school. At the end of the season a trophy was given to the team with the highest total in all games. Trophies were also given to the girl with the most improved average, highest series, and highest game.

Several girls went to the Noblesville High School Playday in the spring. They participated in various indoor sports, such as table tennis and basketball.

Practicing movements tanght to them in modern dance class are Karen Kreutzer, Penny Wiltshire, and Ann Disborough.

One of the busiest clubs in PHS this year was the Junior Red Cross, whose members worked on many charitable projects. One of these was visiting nursing homes in the Peru area during the Christmas season, and giving each patient two Christmas cards to send to a friend or relative. Junior Red Cross members provided the stamps and addressed the envelopes for each patient desiring assistance.

Visiting the Marion Veterans' Hospital was another club activity. At the hospital the girls served as hostesses for several coffee hours. Club members who helped stuff toys to be given to the children of patients in the Veterans' Hospital.

Helping prepare gift boxes to send to needy persons in disaster areas was a project of the Junior Red Cross members. These kits included pencils, paper, needles and thread, erasers, toys, tooth paste, combs, and soap. Many of these articles otherwise would not have been available to the recipients.

Making posters for veterans' hospitals was one of the chief projects of Junior Red Cross this year. Members are: Bottom row: L. Bonney, J. Hunter, R. Qualio, P. Hartwick. H. Tymoszenko, N. Hedrick. Row 2: J. Bonney, N. Thomas, S. Kyees, S. Lunceford, M. Smith, P. Butzin, Mrs. Zeigler. Row 3: C. Rader, D. Gilbert, P. Johnson, D. Premer, J. Mosier, S. Quick, D. Myers.

C-21 and Patrol Boys Serve PHS; New Math Club Formed

Selling refreshments to hungry fans at ball games was the job of members of C-21. They are: Bottom row: A. James, P. Jordan, J. Warden, C. Hinton, T. Fox, S. Cassel, A. Denny. Row 2: A. Stark, T. O'Connell, D. Knott, G. Shoemaker, V. Canner, L. Graf, K. Gipson, R. Helm. Row 3: Mr. Stone, L. Fultz, C. Soames, B. Barnhill, S. Kile, G. Mize, D. Working, J. Pattison.

In fair weather or foul the safety patrol boys must help protect PHS students. John Marcotte, captain, gives last-minute instructions to his boys. Serving on the patrol staff are: Kneeling: D. Wall, J. Swihart. Standing: K. Gipson, K. Scott, R. Garver, R. See, Mr. Noel Davis, sponsor.

Newly-organized this year at PHS is the XYZ Club, open only to those students majoring in math. The members are: Bottom row: M. Scott, N. Reineke, L. Hagen, B. Pier, S. Zook, P. Shannon, E. Crume, J. Hanks, Mr. Ben Rufe, sponsor. Row 2: R. Doucette, A. Wills, D. Jordan, A. Kunkle, R. McLaughlin, M. Bullock, L. Pope, M. Plotner, D. Enyart, S. Goodwin. Row 3: K. Dove, B. Goodwin, R. Stitsworth, R. Bowland, M. Joseph, D. Ramsey, D. Landis, L. Ulrey, E. Harvey, B. Trueblood, J. Butler.

Learning more about the teaching profession was the goal of members of Future Teachers of America. They are: Bottom row: M. Ralstin, C. Erlenbaugh, C. Ohman, K. Doty, M. Willingham, H. Stephenson, B. Parsons, R. Baber, D. Randolph. Row 2: D. Morgan, P. Devine, L. McDaniel, T. Hunt, K. Geberin, P. Gallagher, L. Smith, D. Stegman, S. Carlin, C. Nash. Row 3: T. Noble, B. Mowbray, S. Zook, J. Waltz, V. Welke, A. Kunkle, R. Doucette, S. Goodwin, S. Shalley. Row 4: Miss Rideneour, G. Borden, F. Welke, K. Dove, K. Dawalt, G. Winters, B. Snyder, B. Goodwin, R. Dobler.

FTA, Art Club Stress Development of Professional Skills

Future Teachers of America is an organization for students who expect to enter the teaching profession. Among the projects of the group this year was a day of "practice teaching" in elementary classrooms in Peru. Evaluation of this experience was made at a tea given for the aspiring teachers by ACE, professional elementary teachers' group. FTA officers were Ron Doucette, president; Mary Jo Willingham, vice president; Holly Stephenson, secretary, and Bill Goodwin, treasurer.

The PHS Art Club again this year stressed art activity. Each member prepared an art project which was then exhibited and sold at a school art exhibit. Money obtained from this exhibit was used to help finance a trip to Chicago to visit the Art Museum. Officers were Warren Angle, president; Roberta Thompson, vice president; Abby Taylor, secretary, and Carolyn Nash, treasurer. Mr. Wayne Taylor is adviser.

Arousing an interest in art is the chief purpose of the Art Club. Members are: Bottom row: J. Cover, D. Snyder, J. Herrell, R. Keirn, F. Gilbert, M. Cole, W. Angle. Row 2: Mr. Taylor, R. Thompson, T. Hand, G. Geberin, S. Richter, B. Brauneller, L. Tschmel, E. Crume, J. Craft. Row 3: N. Hartleroad, C. Nash, A. Taylor, B. Walker, C. Ebert, N. Conger, J. Prior, S. English, J. Evans.

Quill and Scroll, National Honor Society Require High Goals

The international honorary for high school journalists, Quill and Scroll, was comprised of 13 seniors this year. The members were required to attain these high standards: They must have written 200 column inches of material, be in the upper one-third of their class, be a junior or a senior, and be approved by the faculty advisers, Mr. Phil Fox and Mrs. Mary Keith.

Sixty-one juniors and seniors made up the membership of the National Honor Society. This was the largest membership this club has had for several years. The qualifications necessary for acceptance into National Honor Society are a 91-per cent grade average for seniors and a 93-per cent grade average for juniors. This year's officers were Bill Goodwin, president; Jim Grund, vice president, and Barbara Parsons, secretary-treasurer.

Quill and Scroll membership was comprised entirely of seniors this year. Members are: Seated: B. Parsons, V. Welke, J. Waltz, K. Doty, C. Erlenbaugh, M. Willingham, L. McDaniel. Standing: S. Zook, L. Wernz, W. Angle, T. Lewis, J. Grund, S. Wiltshire.

PHS students with high grades were admitted to National Honor Society. Members are: Bottom row: C. Erlenbaugh, R. Baber, J. O'Connell, J. Sharp, L. Kramer, B. Parsons, J. Hanks, C. Ebert, E. Crume, D. Randolph, M. Willingham, S. Scott, M. Ralstin, C. Howenstine. Row 2: J. Wyneken, D. Smith, P. Gallagher, V. Welke, K. Geberin, P. Devine, S. Zook, J. Waltz, J. Prior, L. McDaniel, K. Doty, L. Smith, P. Shannon, S. Carlin, R. Thompson, B. Bateman, Miss Elizabeth Ridenour. Row 3: T. Mullett, K. Dixon, B. Brauneller, D. Morgan, J. Grund, M. Bullock, D. Enyeart, H. Unger, M. Boone, B. Potter, S. McCarthy, B. Mowbray, L. Wernz, A. Wills, S. Crowden, S. English. Row 4: F. Holmes, F. Welke, W. Angle, R. Doucette, R. Dobler, M. Plotner, A. Kunkle, R. McLaughlin, B. Goodwin, K. Bird, J. Blackman, T. Noble, S. Goodwin, L. Ulrey, H. Bates, Mr. Ben Rufe.

Figuring the amount of money collected for Narcissus subscriptions and underclass pictures is not an easy task, as Mr. Philip Fox's home room, 216, discovered. These students spent many home room periods trying to make figures and money tally. The Narcissus collectors are: Bottom row: C. Ohman, B. Brauneller, N. Myers, P. Gallagher, V. Welke, K. Doty, D. Morgan. Row 2: B. Geiselman, A. Wills, D. Marcotte, L. Smith, A. Crook, J. Grund. Row 3: D. Berryman, D. Miley, M. Daly, F. Holmes, K. Dawalt, B. Snyder, F. Welke.

Home Room 216 and Printing Boys Assist Publications Staffs

"Will it break down again?" asks Toby Townsend as he and Albert Forker, Robert Bishop, and Larry Butzin nervously prepare to get the old flatbed press rolling. With the help of Mr. Franklin Minion, new printing teacher, these boys print the weekly edition of The Peruvian.

"Homeroom presidents, get The Peruvian." This familiar order heard on Friday afternoon touches off a rush to get the paper and read all the news.

The Peruvian staff, headed by Carol Erlenbaugh, learned the meaning of hard work. The editors remained after school several times a week, and the assistant editors spent hours preparing material for publication.

The business staff collected money for ads to pay for The Peruvian. Everyone was in a continual rush to meet deadlines and get the paper out on time. Mr. Philip Fox was adviser of the Peruvian.

Talking over the news of the day are the assistant editors of The Peruvian: J. Sonafrank, B. Potter, S. Crowden, M. Montgomery, J. O'Connell, N. Doran, S. English, M. Duncan, and R. Thompson.

"Where's the first stop?" asks Martha Scott, advertising manager, as the business staff leaves to collect for ads in the next Peruvian. Also on the staff are Sally Sampson, business manager; Warren Angle, photographer, and Bob Barnhill, circulation manager.

Peruvian Staff Members Minions of Printing Press

Disgust is mirrored in the face of Carol Erlenbaugh, editor-in-chief, as Vicki Welke, managing editor, and Nancy Redmon, copy editor, point out a mistake in Peruvian copy.

"Throw it in here!" says Kent Dove, sports editor. Discarding old copy are Sharon Zook, Jim Grund, and Judy Waltz, associate editors, and Tanee Mullett, feature editor.

"Now this is the way you do it," says Carolyn Ohman, underclass editor, as she pastes pictures on the layout sheet. Other Narcissus editors looking on are Bunny Pier and Ruth Angle, index editors, and Holly Stephenson and Mary Jo Willingham, senior editors.

Exploring the card file is just one of the many tasks Narcissus editors must perform. Making identifications are Frank Anderson, sports editor; Terry Lewis, classroom editor; Susie McCarthy and Judy Wyneken, activities editors, and Carolyn Ebert, classroom editor.

Deadlines Keep Yearbook Staff Under Constant Pressure

To the average PHS student, ten months may seem like plenty of time in which to prepare the Narcissus for publication, but to the editors, the time is all too short. The yearbook began to take shape last summer at the Indiana University Journalism Institute, when Barbara Parsons and Sally Wiltshire, co-editors, prepared the 140-page dummy. During the school year the editors and Mrs. Russell Keith, adviser, fought to meet photography, engraving, and printing deadlines. After many weeks of hard work on the part of the staff, the 1962 Narcissus was finally unveiled at the Publications Banquet in May.

Enjoying the use of a brand new file, where dummy and copy can be locked away from prying eyes, are top Narcissus brass. They are Barbara Parsons and Sally Wiltshire, co-editors-in-chief, and Lagan Wernz, associate editor.

"We're almost finished." members of the business staff exclaim happily as they return from an ad-collection expedition. Serving on the staff are Dale Landis, business manager; Gerrie-Anne Daly, assistant business manager; Linda McDaniel, assistant advertising manager; Kay Doty, advertising manager, and Warren Angle, photographer.

Perfection is the goal for which all band members strive. Much preparation time was spent by the bandsmen, whether they practiced for a half-time show or a concert, but they felt that their efforts were worthwhile after a responsive audience had shown its approval.

During the football season, the PHS band gave many outstanding performances at half-time. They were invited to Ball State to give a half-time show on High School Band Day. The band also performed at basketball games.

To make the half-time shows more colorful, two special groups, the Tigerettes and Majorettes, gave special performances with the band. Among these were a demonstration of the "Twist," popular dance craze, and the annual Christmas show, complete with Santa, Santa's helpers, and Rudolph the Reindeer.

The band also played in the annual Christmas and Spring concerts, and presented the Civil War Centennial Concert which helped raise money for the music department. A group of select members of the band, the Symphonic band, were featured in several of the concerts.

Tim Noble and Ron Doucette, both members of the Peru High School Band, were among ninety students throughout the country who were chosen to play in the United States of America High School Band. This band will tour Europe and present about fifteen concerts in leading European cities. The boys will leave June 14 and come home July 7. Tim and Ron were selected on the basis of musical ability and scholarship. This band is sponsored by the First Chair of America, an honorary organization for the top bands in the United States.

Band Members Perform in Civil War Centennial Concert;

Students Have Duties as Officers, Make Music in Pep Band

"See if this fits, Della," says Brad Snyder, Choir president, to Della Eckelbarger, librarian, as other officers help check robes. They are Tom Scott, sergeant-at-arms; Bill Goodwin, manager, and Tim Noble, student director.

Making a list of band members who talked during rehearsal are the band officers: Bill Goodwin, captain; Jim Blackman, manager; Ron Doucette, student director, and Pam Gallagher, librarian.

Choir Performs for Civic Functions and Events at PHS

The best student vocalists in PHS comprised the membership of the Choir. They are: Left, Row 1: C. Erlenbaugh, R. Baber, K. Butt, C. Struble, B. Schlageter, J. Craft, B. Brauneller, R. Members of the PHS Choir spent much time outside school, singing for civic organizations. Two of these groups were the Kiwanis Club and the Elks, for whom the Choir provided music at the annual Memorial Service in December. Repeating a successful occasion of two years ago, the group planned an exchange concert with Logansport in April.

The fifth period of every school day sees the Choir hard at work, rehearsing old and new numbers. Even though this select group must spend many such hours, the fun of singing together more than makes up for the hard work.

As usual, the Choir presented special programs at both the Christmas and Thanksgiving auditoriums. Mr. James Noble is director.

Hard-working accompanists for the singing organizations of PHS are Sharon Zook, Carolyn Ebert, Judy Waltz, Cathy Miller, Jean Wallace, Kay Doty.

Performing at various civic functions occupies members of the Belles. They are. Bottom row: C. Guss, M. Montgomery, T. Bender, J. Dobler, N. Reineke, D. Sedam, N. Doran, K Volpert, C. Turley, N. Belles and Swing Choir Prepare for Trip to French Lick

French Lick is the destination of the Belles and Swing Choir this year. The groups are to spend the weekend of June 6 entertaining at the State Elks' convention. These organizations performed at the annual Christmas and Spring concerts. To commemorate the anniversary of the Civil War, they participated in the Civil War Centennial Concert. In addition, they gave programs for various civic groups.

Dressed in new navy blue outfits, the Belles became well-known throughout town after their performance for the United Fund banquet. Officers of the Belles are Nancy Redmon, president; Nancy Myers, secretary; Sally Sampson, manager, and Mary Jane Ralstin, librarian.

Sixteen selected students make up the Swing Choir, who not only sing, but also perform dance routines with their songs. The Swing Choir made appearances before about forty groups during the year.

Modern Music Masters Have Unusually Busy School Year

Modern Music Masters, a club open to music students, has as its purpose, promoting and sustaining high standards of music at Peru High School. Membership in this organization is acquired by passing the Tri-M test, which includes learning the Tri-M constitution, song; location of the main office, and the names of the officers of the Peru chapter. Along with regular yearly activities of an induction ceremony and a spring banquet, members undertook many other activities.

Peru chapter officers are Ron Doucette, president; Judy Waltz, vice presideent; Barbara Parsons, secretary; Bill Goodwin, treasurer, and Pam Gallagher, historian. Mr. James Noble is adviser of the group.

Promoting high standards of music at PHS are the old members of Tri-M. They are: Bottom row: N. Doran, C. Erlenbaugh, S. Sampson, J. Craft, C. Soames, B. Parsons, R. Doucette, B. Goodwin, P. Tigers Earn 6-2-2 Record But Fail to Defend CIC Crown

The 1961 football team finished a winning season. They are: Bottom row: R. Yard, C. Lee, D. Briggs, J. Bond, J. Hettwer, T. Scott, R. Newhouse, C. Blackman, J. Blackman, R. Barnhill, M. Siders.

In his second year at the helm, Coach Bob Larson guided the football Bengals to a respectable 6-2-2 record, although they failed to defend successfully the conference championship.

In the first game of the season the Tigs blasted Hartford City with everything but the goal post as they rolled over the hapless Airdales, 50-0. The score might have been considerably higher if Coach Larson had not emptied the bench for most of the last half.

The Bengals then stopped an inspired Monticello drive late in the game and won a 14 to 13 victory. The key to victory in this game was the Tigers' ability to stop conference scoring champ Gary Bair in the second half. Next the Tigers traveled to Plymouth where they were held to a 0-0 stalemate by a fired-up band of Rockies. The Tigers were inside the Rockies' 10-yard line twice but failed to score each time. They then bounced back and beat Rochester, 19 to 6, at Homecoming, in a game that was not as close as the score might indicate, as the Tigers could do everything but score against the Zebras. Then traveling to Wabash, the Tigers broke a 20-year jinx by beating them, 13 to 7. The Tigers were threatened by a strong passing attack.

Then things seemed to fall apart for the Tigers as they were bombed by Logansport, 30-0, and then beaten by the eventual conference champs, Huntington, to the tune of 24 to 6.

The Tiger defense, determined to make up for its failings in the previous two games, kept an extremely fast Tipton team in check, allowing the Tigs to win, 9 to 0.

As Coach Robert Larson Gains Second Successful Season

The Bengals were held to their second 0-0 tie of the year by Elwood in a game hard fought all the way.

For the season finals, the Tigers stepped out of their conference and proved that all NCC teams are not infallible as they beat Marion 18 to 12. Thus the Peruvians finished the second straight season in which they won more games than they lost.

Although there were a number of capable seniors, there were also many underclass gridders who helped to make the season what it was. Twelve lettermen will be returning next year.

Tom Scott, who, as an end, ran end-arounds like a halfback, counted for many valuable Tiger yards as well as throwing and catching passes. Given the Kiwanis Most Valuable Player Award, Tom, who finished high in the conference in points scored and yards gained, was also named to the All CIC team, and was chosen by his teammates as co-captain for the season.

Ron Yard was given the Elks' Past Exalted Ruler Award for the best defensive player of the year. Ron, an offensive halfback who played defense from the very difficult linebacker position, was also elected by his teammates as co-captain.

Jim Baber, a much improved sophomore defensive guard, was given the award for the most improved reserve. Jim narrowly missed earning his major letter as a twisted knee kept him from playing in the last two varsity games.

Junior End Bill Abbey was named to the second CIC team.

Bengal B-Team Gridmen Win Two Games, Lose Four

The B-team under the coaching of Norman Holmes experienced a disappointing season, winning only two while losing five. The victories were over Wabash, 19 to 0, and North Manchester, 47 to 6, while the losses were to Kokomo, 25 to 13; Logansport, 6 to 0; Elwood, 27 to 7; Huntington, 21 to 19, and Plymouth, 7 to 0.

The performance of the B-team was extremely sporadic, as they sometimes played good football, and at other times forgot the basic fundamentals. One big factor was that most of the B-team also played on the varsity squad and thus were unable to practice as a unit and gain the much-needed polish. Many times after a poor first half the B-team would play on even or better than even terms with their opponents, only to find it was too late to retrieve victory. The B-team was comprised of juniors and sophomores.

Harriers Run to Six and Two Season as Sonafrank Shines

Coach Bob Biddle's cross country team earned a good record of six wins and two losses, as well as placing third and second in two three-way meets. The Tigers also finished fifth in an extremely fast CIC meet. Senior Hal Sonafrank led the way with Seniors Bill Zimmerman and Rich Maggart and Junior Glenn Borden usually not far behind. Hal set a new school record and was beaten only once during the regular season as well as placing first in the CIC meet and sixth in the Sectional.

Peru's victories were over Oak Hill, Plymouth, Rochester, Monticello, Elwood, and Eastern, while losses were to Warsaw and Wabash in very close meets.

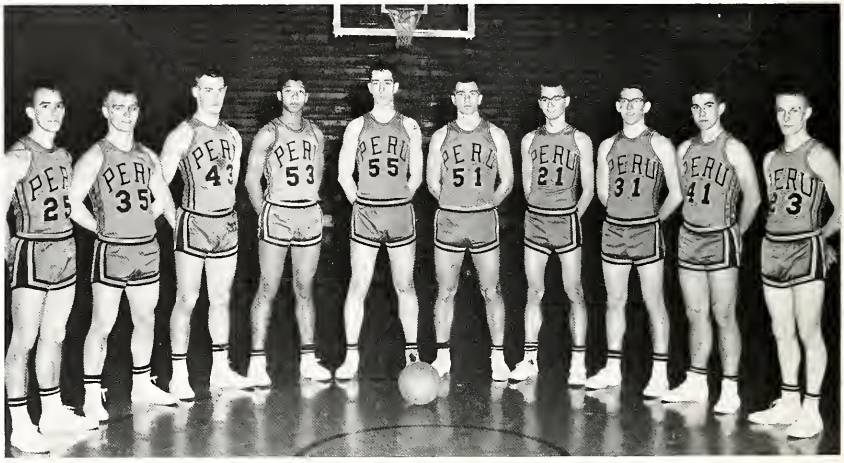
Biddlemen Compile Fifteen and Six Record For the Season;



The varsity basketball team, lined up formally for their official picture, are as follows: Dan VanTreese, Ron Yard, Tom Scott, Bill Abbey, Dave Denny, Rich Newhouse, Rich Dobler, Jerry Bradley, Bob Mangene, Hal Sonafrank.

The 1961-62 edition of Coach Bob Biddle's Tigers experienced a good season as they won 15 and lost 6 overall, but failed to defend either the CIC or Sectional crowns won last year.

The first game of the year augured well for the season, for the Tigers took on and beat a good Muncie Burris team, which had already played five games. The score was 79 to 63.

The Tigs then played Mishawaka, winning 55 to 47, and beat Hartford City to the tune of 92 to 60.

The next game on the schedule could certainly be classified as the high point of the season, since the Bengals finally beat Logansport, 61 to 58, before a packed Tig-Arena.

When the Tigers journeyed to Plymouth, they ran into an unexpectedly rough time, but finally came out on top of a 67 to 60 score over the stubborn Pilgrims.

Back again on home grounds, the Tigers entertained Rochester, and after a lackadaisical first half, ran the Zebras off the floor, winning by a 94 to 48 count.

However, after the Christmas vacation the Bengals suffered a distinct letdown as they hit the road on two successive nights and lost both games in listless battles, the first to Tipton, 53 to 65, the next to Fort Wayne Central by a 48 to 61 score.

The Tigers recovered from their slump the next week-end when they thumped Elwood, 69 to 54, and when they were barely nosed out by a strong Michigan City team in a very good game, 60 to 62.

However, the next game, with Huntington, found the Peruvians on the short end of a 61 to 66 score when the gun sounded.

The loss to the Vikings seemed to snap the Biddlemen out of it, as they scalped the Wabash Apaches in their own gym, 75 to 65.

Next the Tigers faced one of the roughest teams in the state, defending champion Kokomo. Even though the Peruvians were beaten by 20 points, they actually played well, giving the Wildcats many bad moments before the game was over. Tom Scott, senior forward, was outstanding for the Tigers as he scored 34 points in this game. The final score was 60 to 80 in Kokomo's favor.

Roaming down the home stretch, the Tigers showed a good Oak Hill team who was best by romping to a 62 to 41 win.

When the Eastern Comets stepped out on the Tig-Arena floor, they were undefeated and favored to stay that way, but when they walked off after an overtime, they had lost by a score of 54 to 52. The Biddlemen then copped victories over Monticello, 72 to 62, and Indianapolis Wood, 60 to 52.

The final game of the season was with Alexandria, declared Conference champions by virtue of Peru's losses at Tipton and Huntington. The Bengals, however, proved the unpredictability of basketball by whipping the visiting Tigers, 62 to 49.

In the Sectional the Tigers first rolled over North Miami, 71 to 58, and then slipped past Bunker Hill, 58 to 55. However, the Tigs were upset in the Championship tilt by a fired-up Clay Twp. quintet, 62 to 51.

Scott, playing at forward, climaxed four years on the varsity with a 21-point per game average. A good rebounder, he was also one of the team's best defensive men.

Big Rich Newhouse, also a four-year man who played at the forward position, showed many an opponent what rebounding was all about with his fierce under-the-basket play. Rich also added his share of points.

Two other seniors, Dan VanTreese and Ron Yard, held down the guard positions. Danny was extremely fast and accurate, breaking many a game wide open with his jump-shots or driving lay-ins. Ron gave the kind of help that sometimes goes unnoticed but is none-the-less valuable.

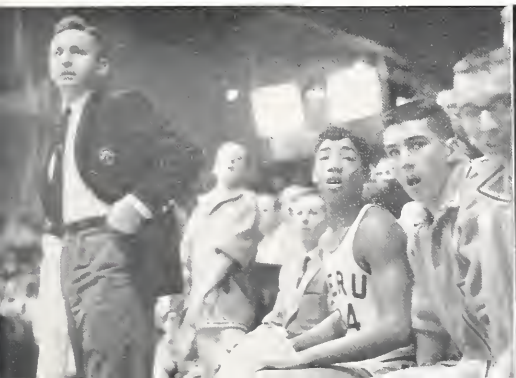
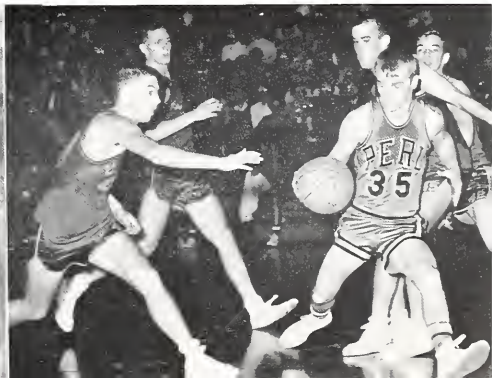
"Now just a minute," says Coach Biddle, as he rises to see what damage the referee has done to his boys. The Tiger bench look interested, too, with Manager Lee Holmes peering from his full height.



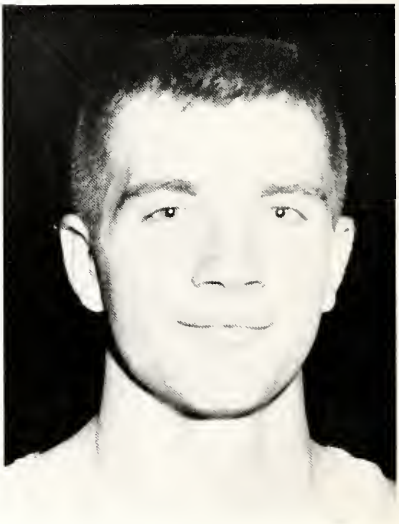
Surrounded by four Muncie Burris players, Ron Yard, senior guard, brings the ball out safely. Ron, playing his second year on the varsity as a regular, did not score many points, but was valuable for his floor play.



Scott, Yard, Newhouse Win Annual Basketball Awards

Rich Newhouse, varsity forward, was the winner of the Kiwanis Most Improved Player award. A committee of coaches and athletic administrators selects the recipients of this and other such awards.

Finishing four years of varsity basketball competition, Tom Scott was chosen honorary captain of the 1961-62 basketball Tigers. He also received recognition for the year's best free throw average.



The Hopper Award, which went to Ron Yard, is presented on the basis of mental attitude, scholarship, and other qualities of an outstanding athlete. Ron, who started almost every game, played guard.

Members of the B-team, which started the season slowly but improved steadily, are as follows: Kneeling: Glenn Borden, Jim Fry, Ted Comerford, Don Hostetler. Mike Hartz, Jerry Ainley. Standing: John Grady, Tom Chapin, Bob Musgrave, Pat Arrick, Jim Nye, Rick Penn.

Berkshire's Young Tigers Gain Experience During 6-12 Season

Although the 1961-62 B-team could amass only six wins against twelve losses, the season was not quite as bad as the record might indicate.

Coach Berkshire's young Tigers got off to a poor start, and it looked like a long season. The Cubs just couldn't win a game as repeatedly they saw substantial early leads melt away. Several games were lost by margins of only two or three points.

Then with the help of varsity players Bob Mangene and Jerry Bradley the B-team gained victories over Plymouth and Rochester. After several shifts in line-up, the Cubs started to roll, playing good basketball on their own. They garnered additional victories over Monticello, Oak Hill, Indianapolis Wood, and Wabash.

Outstanding for the Cubs were Glenn Borden and Jim Fry.

Junior Glenn Borden drives around an opponent from Alexandria as Sophomore Don Hostetler stands by. Glenn was one of the top scorers and rebounders for the inexperienced B-team.

Grapplers Win Two and Lose Ten, But Gain Experience

Putting the finishing touches on a West Lafayette opponent, Ray Ege, senior grappler, registers a pin as the referee checks shoulders. Ray was a consistent winner for the Peru wrestlers.

Coach Bob Larson's wrestlers experienced a rather poor season as they managed to win only two matches while losing ten for the season. This poor record can be attributed chiefly to a lack of experience, since only one letterman, Ray Ege, was back, and there were only two other returnees with any varsity experience at all. In fact, several varsity positions were filled by freshmen.

One high point of the season was the four-way tournament at New Haven, where the Tigers placed a strong second, ahead of two teams that had previously beaten them.

Track Team Has Good Year Under New Coach Berkshire

A much-improved track team, under new Coach Brentis Berkshire, finished the season with three wins and two losses, and placed third in the Delphi Relays, fourth in the Rochester Relays, and second in a six-way meet at Culver Military Academy.

In the Sectional meet, the Tigers qualified for the Regionals four field events men: Randy Geyer in the high jump, Phil Newhouse in the shot put, and Ronnie Yard and Jim Spohn in the pole vault. Randy and Phil advanced to the State meet.

Geyer broke his own high jump record, upping the mark to 6 feet 2⅞ inches, and Newhouse also broke his own record in the shot put with a toss of 53 feet 5½ inches. The team excelled in all four field events and although the runners started off poorly, the boys worked hard and were soon adding points of their own.

Linksmen Sweep Aside All Opposition, Taking CIC Title

An experienced group of Tiger linksmen kept their reputation as a golf power intact as they waded through one of the toughest schedules around, winning fifteen regularly scheduled matches without a single loss to mar their record. In tournament play the golfing Tigers did almost as well as they won the CIC hands down, and placed a strong second in the Sectional and tenth in the State.

Although the Tigers were experienced, they were still relatively young as only three seniors, John Atkinson, Mike Warder, and Mike Redmon, were lost by graduation, leaving bright prospects for the future of Coach Jack Craycraft.

PHS Racquetmen Finish Second Straight Undefeated Season

The Peru Tiger racquetmen under Coach Joe Saine came through as usual as they blasted through the toughest schedule possible, winning 12 matches without a loss and taking the CIC title. The Tigers really proved who was boss when they challenged and beat Fort Wayne Concordia, who had not lost a match for three years.

The Tigers also won the Jeff Doubles Tournament, with Jerry Bradley and Danny Rassner winning first place in the Number 2 doubles and made a shambles of the Burris Invitational Singles Tournament by winning all five divisional championships.

B-Team yell leaders Nancy Fry, Beverly Black and Jayne Evans—emphasize a yell with gold and black shakers. All hopefully look forward to the day when they will be varsity yell leaders.

Noon Leaguers Provide Entertainment and Excitement for All

The winners of the Noon League season as well as the tournament are: Front row: Logan Wernz, John Hettwer, and Rich Maggart, all co-captains. Back row: Tom Wyneken, Bob Smalley, Lee Holmes.

This year the Noon League program under Mr. Biddle was revised. First of all, any boy could organize a team as long as his group included seven players with no more than three from one class. Also this year there were two fifteen-minute games each day, with no jump balls or foul shots and a three-foul limit on players.

As far as real competition was concerned, there wasn't a great deal as the team co-captained by Logan Wernz, John Hettwer, and Rich Maggart literally ran away with both the League and the tournament titles. In the first round the only team to beat the winners was captained by Alvia Smith. However, that team had already lost one game and a playoff was necessary, which Wernz's team won handily. They then breezed through the next two rounds without any trouble at all. When the tournament started, it was actually no contest, since no team came within eight points of them.

Warming up for the championship game of the Noon League tournament, Logan Wernz shoots over the hands of Rich Maggart for two points. Rich was the leading scorer in the tournament with a 20-point average; Logan was second high with 13.

Resting before a game, the Pepettes are seen in a moment of unusual quiet, for they supplied plenty of push behind the varsity at games this year. They are arranged according to the color of their blouses to form a "P." They also prepared silhouettes of the team members for the tourney.

Newly Formed Pepette Club Adds Sparkle to Contests

"M-m, good!" says Judy Gladden as she samples a cookie offered by Mrs. Holmes just before the bake sale sponsored by the Pepettes. Proceeds from the sale were used to buy equipment for the yell block..

One of the big topics for criticism around PHS in the past few years has been the apparent lack of spirit at basketball games. Another sore point has been the lack of a colorful cheer block such as other schools had. This year, however, the talking stopped and action started. Mrs. Carol Holmes, who had been a cheerleader during her school days, took over the sponsorship of the yell leaders and the forming of an effective yell block.

First of all, the varsity yell leaders went to a cheerleading clinic held at I.U. in the fall, where they learned many new and attractive yells and techniques. Then Mrs. Holmes went to work getting a pep club formed. Approximately one hundred and twenty girls joined the new club, which they named the "Pepettes."

The girls raised money for equipment such as shakers by having a bake sale. Members of the block gave up many home room periods and practiced after school in order to present a fine showing for PHS.

presenting ADVERTISERS

As three, we looked to our businessmen for support for many functions throughout the year. The advertisements they purchased helped make several P.H.S. events a success. Without the backing of these advertisers, this book would not have been possible.

Now we are "beginning to live a little and feel less like sick oysters at low tide," quote Barbara Parsons, co-editor-in-chief; Mrs. Keith, adviser; Sally Wiltshire, co-editor-in-chief, and Logan Wernz, associate editor, as they sit stunned, their desk cleared of the last bit of copy.

We Finish --- A Wiser Three

For all the years to come, we have prepared an annual which we hope will encompass the highlights of PHS during this past school year. From July until May we worked to produce the best Narcissus possible. We have enjoyed the work; we hope our readers enjoy our book.

We extend a great big thanks to Mr. Bill Manmiller and Mr. Ernie Aukschun, of the Peru Sentinel Printing Company, for all the help they have given throughout the year. Without them, publishing this Narcissus would have been next-to-impossible. Our thanks also to Mr. Jack Bundy, of the S. K. Smith Company, without whose help we could not have designed the cover—to Mr. Charles Mueller, of the Ropkey Engraving Company, who supervised the engraving of our pictures and stayed cheerful in spite of last minute changes—and to Mr. John Waltz, photographer, who never uttered an unkind word as he ran from one end of the building to the other on those "snapping expeditions."

We also thank Principal Earl Delph for allowing us to get out of class to take pictures—Mr. Philip Fox, for handling circulation matters and giving us expert advice—Mrs. Alice Moon and her typing classes for typing the circulation lists—Mrs. Mary Tresch, for mimeographing the subscription cards—Ed Gebhart, for manning the paper cutter—and the advertisers for helping finance the book.

One person whom we cannot thank enough is our sponsor, Mrs. Keith. To us she has been a friend as well as an adviser. Without her tireless work this book would not have taken shape.

"Now We Are Three" is more of a reality to us because of the experiences the three of us have shared in producing this book.

Barbara Parsons,
Sally Wiltshire, Co-Editors-in-Chief
Logan Wernz, Associate Editor.

To one of the nicest and smartest guys in my history class, you're a real swell guy; stay that way & you will go far.

"Loads of Luck"

Jewel Warder

P.S. You are a fine pianist too. I'll never forget that!!

Alan,

You're one of the nicest guys I know. Alan always stay that way. I know you'll go over in whatever career you choose.

Best of luck always
